

Baytown Historical Preservation Association

“Collecting Yesterday for Tomorrow”

Dear Photographers,

We are delighted that people come out to the Republic of Texas Plaza Park to take their special photographs. While the park is public, the historic structures are privately owned, financed, and maintained by the Baytown Historical Preservation Association (BHPA), a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization run by dedicated volunteers.

Due to the constant overuse of and abuse to our historic buildings and post and beam barn by photographers, a new policy for photographers is now in effect for BHPA’s historical structures and barn at the Republic of Texas Plaza Park. The park is currently being patrolled to enforce this new policy.

The new policy requires professional photographers and amateur photographers with professional-looking cameras to sign an agreement. Photographers must also pay in advance a nonrefundable rental fee of $50 per hour plus a damage/cleanup deposit of $150 (refundable if no repairs or cleanup needed). You will be issued a permit with the date and time you are allowed to take photos. A BHPA representative will also be present to oversee your designated photo shoot.

We regret this new policy is necessary, but we must protect our living history museums for future generations. If you have any questions, email us at info@baytownhistory.org or call 281.421.2099.

Yours in preservation,
Board of Directors
